Feeding of non-Brahmans during the Ghate Jatra.

From

The Deputy Commissioner Bangalore District

Letter No. 94 dated 21st March 1908. Rec'd

The Deputy Commissioner reports that much inconvenience is caused to non Brahmans for meals during the Car-festival of the Sri Ghate Subrahmanya Swami at Doddaballapur and solicits sanction for incurring an Expenditure of Rs 100/- every year on the occasion. (ie for feeding the non Brahmans during the Jatra) It is further reported that the majority of the devotees that visit the place are non Brahmins.

Bangalore District

Recommends that sanction may be accorded to the proposal of the Amildar and the Assistant Commissioner to have rice and accompaniments cooked at a cost of Rs 75/- and served to the poor non-brahmins in a separate place away from the temple kitchen and to utilise the balance of Rs 25/- for cocoanut and for the preparation of Panchamrita for distribution to the chief persons of all castes assembled at the Jatra In his anki to the Assistant Commissioner, he however expresses his doubts if Govt would sanction the utilisation of Rs 25/- for Panchamrita.

In the original report upon which the present correspondence has arisen, the Amildar states that the feeding proposed by him will attract a large gathering for the festival and the Jatra.

The late Mysore Secretary has observed on a slip that the question involves a principle. Subd for orders

The proposal is no doubt fair But as stated by Is a communal Road a principle is involved. It will be observed that in all such Chetties only and for the reason for this being that the feeding of Brahmins is meritorious. It is now proposed to feed Sudras. If this is sanctioned an inconvenient precedent will be created. It is reported that Vaisyas and Nagarthas have their own arrangements.

It is also proposed to pay Rs. 25 to Panchamis Nairezya and distribution thereof. No doubt appears to be any necessity for this. All deserving Panchamis Should be specially distributed. No Govt himself does not appear to be satisfied that this is necessary.
